

PERSONAL INJURY COMPENSATION

Parker Arrenberg act for individuals, Trade Unions and other associations in bringing personal injury claims.

We act for clients who have sustained minor (but often distressing) injuries that result in claims of a few thousand pounds through to catastrophic situations where claims of the utmost severity may lead to damages of several million pounds.

While “Legal Aid” is no longer available for most personal injury cases there is little cause to worry over costs as we are able to undertake the vast majority of work on a conditional (no win no fee) basis, or via the client’s own legal expenses insurance that is often included with either motoring or household insurance.

Our personal injury team are specialists in all type of personal injury claims and they have access to a wide range of experts including Consultants and Doctors able to prepare medical reports, and employment consultants, health and safety experts, surveyors and investigators able to provide reports and advice. With their assistance we make it our business to secure fair and prompt settlements for the victims of accidents. We provide realistic, reassuring and sound advice with all work undertaken by a member of the Personal Injury Panel of the Law Society.

The advice we provide covers all essential areas in personal injury law including:

- Personal injury compensation for pain and suffering, loss of amenity, loss of earnings, loss of future earnings, reduced job prospects, other actual financial loss suffered
- Fatal accident claims, pain and loss of the

Realistic, reassuring and sound advice.

- deceased, loss suffered by the deceased’s dependants, damages for bereavement, pension and loss of financial support
- Motor accidents, rights of third party claims to motor insurance bureau, compensation for financial loss

- Medical evidence, advice concerning instruction of appropriate Consultants and obtaining medical reports
- Criminal injuries compensation
- Personal injury litigation in Europe
- Product liability

Parker Arrenberg are pleased to advise in all areas of accidents and personal injury compensation, and offer a free of charge initial assessment meeting.

Money may never fully compensate for injuries and suffering caused by an accident, but a successful claim can help to alleviate the financial and emotional burdens.